

Mike Moran has been a member of the Associate Faculty of the Mathematics Department at Shoreline Community College since Fall Quarter 1998.

Mike was born in Spokane, Washington where he attended Gonzaga High School. He then attended Seattle University, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in Math. He went on to the University of Idaho as a graduate teaching assistant. He taught college level math classes while earning a Master of Science Degree in Mathematics.

He accepted a management position at Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone Company, the Seattle affiliate of AT&T. He remained with that company and its successors for 31 years before taking early retirement. His management experience includes supervising large technical work groups, supervising the tax activities of the corporation, directing product managers in pricing products and services, and coordinating the activities of the corporation with state regulatory commissions.

During his business career Mike earned a Masters of Business Administration attending evening classes at Seattle University. He also passed the examination to be a Certified Public Accountant.

Immediately following his retirement from business, he enrolled in Antioch University of Seattle, and received secondary school, Washington State teacher certification. As part of this program, he taught one quarter of Math at Cleveland High School in Seattle.

Mike and his wife, Kristina, have five grown children, twelve grandchildren and three basset hounds.